

Society

CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE.

It is expected that the whole diplomatic corps will be in attendance. Personal invitations have been sent out to members of the Cabinet, Supreme Court members, the judiciary, Senate and House members, and to members of the Army and Navy and the Southern Society.

The Fuller Sisters, of Dorset, England, will give a recital of folk songs of the British Isles at the Columbia Theater next Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of Friendship House, with the following list of patronesses:

Mrs. William G. McAdoo, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, Mrs. Joseph Daniels, Mrs. David P. Houston, Mrs. Hugh Scott, Mrs. Paul M. Warburg, Mrs. A. Garrison McCintock, Mrs. Fremont-Smith, Mrs. Lawrence Townsend, Mrs. Archibald Hopkins and Mrs. Harvey Wiley.

Secretary and Mrs. Daniels and their three youngest sons, Worth Bagley, Jonathan and Frank, returned last night from Philadelphia, where they attended the Army and Navy game. Josephine Daniels, Jr., who met the family in Philadelphia for the holidays, returned to the Tome School at Port Deposit, Md.

The Day in Philadelphia.

The Army and Navy football game in Philadelphia yesterday was the occasion for a very quiet day in this city. Almost all the army and navy people were in Philadelphia, the diplomatic set and prominent society folk of all ages were in the Quaker city. Debutantes, if there were any still in Washington, must have had a quiet day for almost all the younger set of Washington had gone to take part in the festivities attending this important game. Today they will begin to make their way back to Washington, though several prominent folk who were in Philadelphia yesterday have gone on to New York or to some of the Southern resorts for the remainder of this week.

Senator and Senora A. Herquino, of Chile, arrived in Washington Friday and will stay at the Shoreham Hotel for an indefinite period. Senora Herquino is the daughter of the Chilean Minister and Senora Elena Edwards Suarez-Mujica.

Harry Lehr, the well known society leader of New York and Baltimore, was the honor guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Lehr, 1827 New Hampshire avenue, at dinner Friday evening.

There is one set of officials in the Capital who will not be overworked this winter if the present plan of no White House entertaining is followed. These are the thirteen army and navy aids to the President. The duties of these officers, most of whom are young, are not arduous excepting occasionally at the larger functions when the task of keeping people in line is not an easy one. The aid to whose lot falls the burden of announcing names has perhaps the hardest task of all. The late Maj. Archibald Hunt, who performed this duty for years in the Roosevelt and Taft administrations, used to tell stories of all sorts of difficulties which he encountered when announcing names of guests to the President at the state receptions.

Gen. and Mrs. Modeste Crawford will entertain with an informal tea this afternoon at their home, 132 Nineteenth street, in compliment to Miss Leila Harrison and Lieut. Geoffrey Keyes, whose wedding will take place next Tuesday in St. Matthew's Church. Only the wedding party and ushers will attend the tea. Miss Alice Harriman will assist at the tea table.

Mrs. Martha S. Gielow, who has been the guest of Mrs. D. R. Ambler, returned to New York yesterday. Mrs. Gielow came to Washington for the purpose of making an appeal that would help decide the question whether there would be a mountain schoolhouse built in Kentucky. Her address on "The Debt We owe the Mountain Descendants of Our Revolutionary Patriots" was the feature of the opening of the South Carolina. D. A. R. congress in New York, and decided the building of the school in Kentucky.

At the Army and Navy Game

A brilliant representation of Washington people was present in the boxes at the Army and Navy football game at Franklin Field in Philadelphia yesterday.

Box 22, section G, was reserved for the President, but when he definitely declined to come to the game, the compartment was turned over to Secretary of War Garrison and was occupied by members of his party who were unable to find seats in box 24.

MISS ABIGAIL CAMBELL, who was a debutante last winter, is one of the prettiest members of New York's younger set.

PHOTO BY MESSERS JELLY

Box 63 was reserved for Vice President Marshall, but the compartment was used to accommodate the extra members of parties of Secretary Daniels and the Postmaster General.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Bryan, who had as their guests a party of young people, including Miss Ruth Bryan, Miss Madeline Frederick M. Rose, M. M. Wyvill, and E. C. Sweet. The party made the trip on the "Cabinet Special" and had luncheon at the South street siding.

Secretary Daniels and a large party of friends occupied box 57, in section E. Navy Department officials and members of the Diplomatic Corps occupied this compartment and also box 69, which was reserved until the last moment for President Wilson but given to Secretary Daniels when the President definitely decided not to come to the game. Secretary Daniels and his guests made the trip from Washington in a special train and had luncheon on the South street siding.

Included in Secretary Daniels' party were Miss Elsie Bagley, of Washington; Gov. Locke Craig, of North Carolina; Senator E. B. Tillman, of South Carolina, chairman of the Senate Committee on

Naval Affairs; Representative Lemuel E. Padgett, of Tennessee, chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs; Representative and Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania; Capt. and Mrs. A. G. Winterhalter, of Washington; and Mrs. H. W. Jackson, of Richmond, Va.; Joseph B. Wilson, Miss Wilson, Joseph Daniels, Jr., Worth Bagley Daniels, and Frank Daniels, of Washington. Other boxes were occupied as follows:

SECTION 2.
Box 19—Henry S. Breckinridge, Assistant Secretary of War; Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and their families.

Box 20—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., commander of the Department of the East; Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, Assistant Chief of Staff of the United States Army; Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Bliss, and party of friends from Washington.

Box 21—Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, Chief of Staff of the United States Army, and party of friends from Washington.

Box 22—Lindley R. Garrison, Secretary of War, and large party of War Department officials, members of the Diplomatic Corps, and friends from Washington. All made the trip to Philadelphia on the Cabinet special train, and had luncheon on the South street siding.

SECTION 3.
Box 1—Col. Harry F. Hodges, U. S. A., and party of War Department officials from Washington.

Box 2—Franklin Knight Lane, Secretary of the Interior; Mrs. Lane, and party of friends, who came up on the Cabinet members' special train. They had luncheon on board the train on the South street siding, and went from there direct to their seats.

Box 3—David Franklin Huston, Secretary of Agriculture; William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce; William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor, and their families, who also made the trip from Washington on the Cabinet officers' special train. They had luncheon aboard the train, sidetracked on the South street siding, and went direct from their car to their seats.

Box 4—Thomas Watt Gregory, the new Attorney General of the United States, who succeeded James C. McReynolds, who was recently appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States; Gregory, Senator James O'Gorman, of New York, and a party of friends, who also made the journey from Washington on the Cabinet special train.

SECTION 4.
Box 7—Brig. Gen. Ernest A. Garlington, Inspector General of the United States Army; Brig. Gen. Dan C. Kingman, head of the Engineer Corps of the United States Army, and their families.

Box 8—Brig. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, Judge Advocate General of the United States Army; Maj. Gen. W. W. Wether- spoon, retired, former Chief of Staff of the United States Army; Mrs. Crowder, Mrs. Wether- spoon, the Misses Wether- spoon, and party of friends.

Box 9—Col. and Mrs. Thomas E. Murphy had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Murdock Kendrick.

SECTION 5.
Box 34—Brig. Gen. John A. Johnston, U. S. A., retired, former District Commissioner of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Johnston, Maj. Gen. John H. Brooke, U. S. A., retired, and party of friends.

Box 35—Brig. Gen. Albert L. Mill, U. S. A., chief of the Division of Militia Affairs; Mrs. Mill, the Misses Mills, Brig. Gen. J. B. Aleshire, chief of the Quartermaster's Department of the United States Army; Mrs. Aleshire and party of friends.

Box 37—Representative James Hay, of Virginia, chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs of the House of Representatives; Brig. Gen. Henry P. McCain, Adjutant General of the United States Army, and family party from Washington.

Box 40—Brig. Gen. Erasmus M. Weaver, chief of the Artillery Corps, U. S. A.; Brig. Gen. William Crozier, chief of Ordnance of the United States Army; Maj. William Smith, U. S. A., and their families.

Box 41—Brig. Gen. Frank McIntyre, U. S. A., chief of the Bureau of Military Affairs, and Brig. Gen. George P. Scriven, chief signal officer of the United States Army.

SECTION 6.
Box 42—Representative Frank Buchanan, of Illinois, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs; Mrs. Buchanan, Rear Admiral Cameron McRae Winslow, U. S. N., T. H. Newberry, of Chicago, a former Secretary of the Navy, and party of friends from Washington.

Box 43—Representative Samuel J. Trible, of Georgia, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs; Senator William E. Chilton, of West Virginia, a member of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs; Representative Edward Gilmore, of Massachusetts, and their families.

Box 44—Representative Frederick A. Britton, of Illinois, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs; Rear Admiral John Kennedy Barton, U. S. N., retired, former engineer-in-chief of the United States navy; Rear Admiral Leavitt Curtis Logan, U. S. N., retired, and their families.

Box 45—Senator Miles Poindexter, of Washington, member of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs; Rear Admiral Alfred Reynolds, U. S. N., member of the naval examining and visiting board; Rear Admiral George Sidney Willes, U. S. N., inspector of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, and their families.

Box 46—Rear Admiral Robert Edwin Peary, U. S. N., retired, discoverer of the north pole; Representative Thomas S. Butler, of Pennsylvania, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs; Charles J. Harrah, of the Midvale Steel Works.

Box 47—Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, U. S. N., retired, a former commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet; Mrs. Osterhaus, Senator Albert Easton, of Indiana, and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Collins, of New York City.

SECTION 7.
Box 48—Representative Peter G. Gerry, of Rhode Island, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs; Representative Samuel W. Boakes, of Michigan, and their families.

Box 49—Senator Benjamin Tillman, of South Carolina, chairman of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs; Senator John Walter Smith, of Maryland, a member of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, and their families.

SECTION 8.
Box 50—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt had as his guests William Phillips, Assistant Secretary of State, and Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Winston, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ledyard, Jr., of New York; Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, of New York; Herkimer, N. Y., Langdon P. Marvin, of New York, and Robert W. Cooley, of New York.

SECTION 9.
Box 51—Rear Admiral Victor H. S. S. N., chief of the Bureau of Navigation; Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, aid for operations and member of the joint board, Congressman Nicholas J. Sinnett, of Oregon, and their families.

Box 52—Rear Admiral F. F. Fletcher, U. S. N., commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet and party of officers from Washington.

Box 53—Rear Admiral Jacob Strause, U. S. N., chief of the Bureau of Ordnance; Rear Admiral R. C. Griffin, engineer-in-chief of the United States navy; Congressman William Kennedy, of Maine, and their families.

SECTION 10.
Box 54—Maj. Gen. George D. Barnett, commander of the United States Marine Corps, and Mrs. Barnett, who had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Charlesman Tower, H. R. Stanford, U. S. N., chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, and Congressman William Kennedy, of Connecticut, member of the House Committee on Railways and Canals.

Box 55—Rear Admiral W. R. Caperton, U. S. N., commander of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet, Chief Constructor R. M. Watt, U. S. N., and Congressman J. V. Leshner, of Pennsylvania.

Box 56—Postmaster General A. R. Burleigh, and Mrs. Burleigh, who had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wagner, Miss Emily Wagner, A. N. Wagner, Jr., Miss Lucia Burleson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burleson, and several of her young friends.

William McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, and Mrs. McAdoo, youngest daughter of President Wilson, were also to have been in the box, but did not return from a trip to Georgia in time.

Box 58—Congressman F. L. Iversen, of Pennsylvania, member of the Pension Committee of the House; J. J. Lantry, of New York City, and party of friends.

SECTION 11.
Box 59—Rear Admiral Frank Edmund Hagley, U. S. N., chief of the First Division of the Atlantic Fleet; Rear Admiral Clifford Joseph Bouché, commander of the Second Division of the Atlantic Fleet; Congressman Horace Vaughn, of Texas, member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and their families.

Box 60—Rear Admiral Reginald Fairfax, U. S. N., chief of the Third Division of the Atlantic Fleet; Rear Admiral A. C. Dillingham, U. S. N., retired, Congressman John R. Farr, of Pennsylvania, and party of friends from Washington.

Box 61—Congressman Joshua F. C. Talbot, of Maryland, ranking member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs; Congressman Daniel J. Roridan, of New York City, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, Congressman B. F. Mahan, of Connecticut, member of the House Committee on Appropriations, and their families.

Box 62—Congressman James B. Scully, of New York, and party of friends from Washington.

Box 63—Senator Benjamin F. Shivers, of Arkansas; Congressman W. W. Bailey, of Pennsylvania, member of the House Committee on Insular Affairs; Congressman W. J. Collier, of Mississippi; Congressman E. V. Webb, of North Carolina; Congressman A. W. Greig, of Texas, chairman of the House Committee on War Claims, and their families.

Box 64—Congressman Benjamin Shivers, of Indiana; Congressman Henry George, Jr., of New York City; Congressman F. E. Guernsey, of Maine, and their families.

The Russian Ambassador and Mrs. Rakhmetoff and two former American Ambassadors, Mr. Curtis Guild and Mr. George von L. Meyer, will attend the Russian festival Tuesday evening next in New York which Miss Barbara Ruth- ertford has arranged for the benefit of the Russian war sufferers through the committee of mercy. The program will be presented by Russian artists: Mme. Naximova, Adamo Didur, and Efron Zimbalist, and also the Russian Cathedral Choir. There will also be Russian dances and tableaux.

Mme. Calderon, wife of the Minister of Bolivia, will not keep her day at home until after New Year.

The Minister from Chile, Don Eduardo Suarez-Mujica, and Mrs. Suarez-Mujica, are getting settled in their new home in K street.

The Minister from China, Kai Fu Shah, is making a lengthy visit to Cuba, for which he sailed a week ago.

The counselor of the German Embassy and Princess von Hatzfeldt, who have been stopping at the Shoreham, have leased the residence of Mrs. W. S. Stanley, at 233 Massachusetts avenue, for the winter.

Owing to the general distress, occasioned by the European war, there will

J. E. Cunningham & Co.

The Mammoth Cloak and Suit House

316 Seventh Street

Opposite the Hub Furniture Co.

Any Woman Who Thinks of Buying a Suit or Coat Should Hasten to Cunningham's to This Great Sale

On Monday Morning We Will Place on Sale 1,000 SUITS AND COATS at the Greatest Money-Saving Prices Ever Quoted by a Store in Washington.

200 Suits of a style and quality that make them desirable for every woman, no matter how discriminating. $10.75

250 Suits, in broadcloth, gabardine, and serge. Values range up to $35. $16.98

These wonderful values will crowd the store Monday. Our advice is to come early.

Greatest Values in Coats Ever Offered

300 of the smartest styles in Coats. In every good material. The fabrics are identical to those in $25 Coats. FOR ONE DAY ONLY. $10

300 Coats in Fur Fabrics, Plushes, Hindu Lynx, Ural Lamb, English Kersey, and Broadtail. Full one-third less than regular price. $15

A SPECIAL PURCHASE MAKES THIS VALUE POSSIBLE.

Great Bargains Here in Furs

This being our first season in business we are sacrificing our profits to win your business and confidence.

See our prices on separate Neckpieces, Muffs, and Fur Sets. You'll buy and save big money on the purchase.

Special Value in Waists

Hundreds of Crepe de Chine and Lace Waists.

$1.98, $2.98, and $5

Select the Christmas Gift Waists now. We pack them in handsome boxes.

be no entertaining at the British Embassy in the present season. Neither will Lady Spring-Rice observe a day at home. This formal announcement was made from the embassy yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Burns and daughter, Miss Janet Burns, of St. Paul, Minn., entertained last night at the Powhatan Hotel.

Mrs. L. P. Wadsworth and daughter, Miss Helen; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Garrett and daughter, Miss Florence, and Mrs. Hinkley Pales and daughter, of the Powhatan Hotel, were among the Washington folk who attended the Army and Navy game.

The Georgetown "Convent Alumnae Association" has inaugurated a series of addresses to be given at the convent during the winter. The first will be given tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by Mr. John Barrett on "Pan-America, the New America." Alumnae visiting in Washington as well as resident members are invited.

The first meeting of the Junior League of the City of Washington will be held at the home of Miss Frances Carpenter, 1221 Connecticut avenue, tomorrow at 2 p. m. The president of the league, Mrs. John W. Thompson, will preside. Tea will be served at the close of the meeting with Miss Ruth Larmer and Miss Mabel Grandin at the tea table.

Mrs. Stephen H. Elkins, Mrs. George Howard, Mrs. Edward B. McLean, Mrs. Robert McCormick, Mrs. Perry Belmont, Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, Mrs. Reynolds Hitt, and Mrs. Johnston have taken boxes for the dance which is to be given next month at Rauscher's for the benefit of the Children's Country Home.

Representative F. E. Kelly, of Michigan, and Mrs. Kelly, who have been stopping at the Dewey Hotel, have taken an apartment at 1527 K street northwest for the season.

Miss Ernestine Eisenman, of Atlanta, Ga., who spent a short time in town recently to attend the marriage of Mr. Eugene Young and Miss Alma Baer.

The Juliet 915 G St.

Ostrich Feather Reconstruction A SUCCESS

Your old Plumes have intrinsic value. BUT the result of restoration depends upon the concern who undertakes the work.

We will transform your old feathers into beautiful French plumes, stick-up effects, or fancy Parisian novelties, at one-half the cost of new ones.

Dyeing, Cleaning, or Curling by Experts

We, being manufacturers, carry the most complete line of ostrich feathers shown in Washington, and we save our customers 33 1-3 per cent of the retail price.

Given for Charity.

On the Monday after Christmas there will be a dance given for the benefit of the Working Boys' Home at Rauscher's. Monday will be the day of the Yale "Crisis" concert also, and as all the Yale men who are present at that entertainment are to be present after their performance at the dance, it is expected that this will be one of the most interesting afternoon events of the holidays, especially with the younger members of Washington society.

Miss Margaret Colton, who is president of the board of managers of the Working Boys' Home, is taking an active interest in this Christmas week tea. The vice presidents of the board are Mrs. Arthur Lee, Mrs. Walter Wilcox, and Mrs. Cary D. Langhorne. Other active members of the board are the following: Mrs. Victor Cushman, Mrs. Frederic Atherton, Mrs. Richard Harlow, the Misses Virginia and Gladys Mackay, Smith, Miss Sophie Johnston, and Miss Gladys Hinkley.

The annual sale and tea to be given at St. Rose's Technical School on December 7, from 3 to 6 o'clock will be the first of the Christmas sales and teas of the season and promises to be even more attractive than in previous years. A mammoth Christmas tree laden with toys and a make-believe Santa Claus with a pack on his back who will distribute gifts to the children will be part of the afternoon's attractions. The older people will be interested in a novel feature, suitable for the times, in a "war relief" table, where those who have not had time to make articles for the war sufferers may buy these articles and either have them shipped or send them themselves to the soldiers or war victims with whom they most sympathize.

The tea room, as usual, will be presided over by the ladies of the diplomatic corps and a section of the Marine Band will furnish music during the afternoon. From every point of view this bazaar promises to be interesting and promises plenty of enjoyment for young and old. The officers of St. Rose's Technical School are as follows: President, Mrs. Lee, recording secretary, Miss Redfern, vice presidents, Mrs. Story, Mrs. H. Taylor, Mrs. Carr, and Mrs. McCarthy. The tables at the bazaar have been assigned as follows: Dolls, toys and Christmas tree, Mrs. Carr, Mrs. McCarthy.

CONTINUED ON PAGE THREE

Gude's Flowers Are Always Appreciated

They are always the choicest blossoms, cut just before delivery, and arrive in perfect condition.

We are particularly proud of our corsages—they are artistically arranged by men who have the knack of choosing just what will please a girl.

We make a specialty of decorative work

GUDE BROS. CO.

1214 F Street

Phones Main 4278-4279-3057

Books are Ideal Gifts

BOOKS as gifts proclaim the heart and mind of those who give and those who get. Therefore, when happily chosen, BOOKS are matchless as gifts.

Happily chosen Books become treasured possessions and never fail to awaken pleasant memories of their givers. If you wish to make your gift speak of and from you

GIVE BOOKS THIS CHRISTMAS.

Our stock covers the entire realm of literature, and all new books may be found here immediately upon publication.

Brentano's Twelfth and F